

Item 1. Introduction

Cosner Financial Group, LLC (“Cosner”) is an investment adviser registered with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission. Investment advisory and brokerage services and fees differ; therefore, it is important for you to understand the differences. Free and simple tools are available to research firms and financial professionals (also referred to as Investment Adviser Representatives; “IARs”) at Investor.gov/CRS, which also provides educational materials about investment advisers, broker-dealers, and investing.

Item 2. Relationships and Services

“What investment services and advice can you provide me?”

Description of Services and Monitoring: We provide investment advisory services, including portfolio management and financial planning, to retail investors.

Portfolio Management: Our portfolio management services include continuous and regular account supervision. We generally create a portfolio that is designed to meet the retail client’s particular investment goals. As part of our standard services, we review the portfolio at least annually and rebalance, if necessary, based on the client’s individual needs, stated goals and objectives. We may review client accounts more frequently. Factors that trigger an off-cycle review include major market or economic events, client life events and client requests. For clients who prefer to manage their own account or certain funds on their own, we monitor, but do not provide on-going supervision with respect to securities transactions.

We provide portfolio management typically in non-wrap accounts (the client pays us a management fee and trading costs are charged separately by a broker-dealer). However, we also offer portfolio management in our PRIME Portfolio Management Wrap Fee Program (the client pays us one fee that covers both the management fee and trading costs).

Financial Planning: We offer a variety of financial planning and consulting services to retail clients. Generally, such services will involve preparing a financial plan or rendering a financial consultation. These services, and any updates, are provided at the client’s request.

Investment Authority: We offer portfolio management on both a discretionary and non-discretionary basis. Discretionary portfolio management allows us the limited authority to buy and sell investments in your account without asking you each time a transaction is placed. With non-discretionary portfolio management, we provide investment recommendations but require your approval to proceed. You make the ultimate decision regarding the purchase or sale of investments. Our level of authority is determined at the beginning of our relationship with you in our advisory agreement but can be changed upon request.

Investment Offerings and Additional Requirements: While we can advise on any investment asset, our investment recommendations are primarily related to investments in mutual funds, exchange traded funds, equities, and REITs. We do not require a minimum account balance as a condition for starting or maintaining a relationship. However, our wrap accounts will generally require $150,000 of assets. We may make exceptions to the minimum assets for wrap accounts.

Additional Information: For additional information, please see our Form ADV Part 2A and Appendix 1 (with special emphasis on Items 4, 7, and 16 of Part 2A or Items 4.A and 5 of Appendix 1).

Conversation Starters: Ask your financial professional:

- Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service? Why or why not?
- How will you choose investments to recommend to me?
- What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education and other qualifications? What do these qualifications mean?

Item 3. Fees, Costs, Conflicts, and Standard of Conduct

“What fees will I pay?”

Our fees are based on the types of services we provide. For portfolio management, whether in a wrap account or non-wrap account, we charge an ongoing asset-based fee at the end of each quarter. The fee may be charged in arrears or advance. It will be based on the value of the account on the last business day of the quarter if payable in arrears, or on the last business day of the previous quarter if payable in advance. For certain legacy accounts, we reserve the right to adjust our billing for material interim additions or withdrawals during the quarter. Any such adjustments will be reflected during the next billing cycle. The ongoing asset-based fee is a percentage of your assets we manage. The more assets in your advisory account, the more you will pay in fees, and we may, therefore, have an incentive to encourage you to increase the assets in your account.

For financial planning and consulting services, we charge an hourly or fixed fee that is based on the scope and complexity of the engagement. These fees are mutually agreed upon at the beginning of the engagement.

We also charge a “performance fee” to a limited number of legacy clients. Performance fees are based on a share of capital gains on or capital appreciation of the managed assets of a client. We do not intend to bill based on this arrangement in the future.

Other Fees and Costs: Some investments, such as mutual funds, impose additional fees that will reduce the value of your investments over time. Those fees may include mutual fund expenses and surrender charges. You may also pay other fees to the custodian of your assets. These include, but may not be limited to, commissions, transaction fees, electronic funds and wire transfer fees, custodial fees, and other fees, taxes, and governmental charges that are imposed.

Additional Information: You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce the amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying. More detailed information about our fees and costs are included in our Form ADV Part 2A (Items 5.A., B., C., and D.)

Conversation Starter: Ask your financial professional:

- Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me?

“What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser?”

When we act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide you. Here are some examples to help you understand what this means:

- Some of our IARs are registered representatives of Triad Advisors, LLC (“Triad”), an SEC registered broker-dealer and investment adviser. Your IAR may offer you brokerage services through Triad or investment advisory services through our Firm. Brokerage services and investment advisory services are different, and the fees we, and Triad, charge for those services are different. It is important that you understand the differences. In particular, your IAR may earn additional transaction-based compensation as a result of providing brokerage services through Triad. This additional compensation causes a conflict of interest as the IARs have an incentive to solicit commission-based products. You are encouraged to learn more about Triad by reviewing Triad’s relationship summary and having a discussion with your IAR.
- Additionally, our primary custodian for retail investors provides certain research or other investment management tools without charge for maintaining client assets with them. The receipt of such economic benefits by us or our IARs in and of itself creates a potential conflict of interest and may indirectly influence our choice of a particular custodian for custody and brokerage services.

These arrangements and additional information about conflicts of interest are discussed in more detail in our Form ADV Part 2A.

“How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?”

We only generate revenues from our portfolio management and financial planning services as described above.

Conversation Starter: Ask your financial professional:

- How might your conflicts of interest affect me, and how will you address them?

“How do your financial professionals make money?”

Our IARs are compensated through salaries. The portion paid to your IAR generally does not vary based on the type of investments that are recommended. However, as described above, several of our IARs are also registered representatives of a broker-dealer and some are also independent insurance agents. When acting in these capacities, they will earn commissions. Additionally, as an independently owned investment adviser, our owner receives compensation based on the revenues generated by our firm for its advisory services.

Item 4. Disciplinary History

“Do you or your financial professionals have legal or disciplinary history?”

No – Neither the Firm nor any of our IARs have a disciplinary history. We invite you to visit Investor.gov/CRS for a free and simple search tool to research our Firm and IARs.

Conversation Starter: Ask your financial professional:

- As a financial professional, do you have any disciplinary history? For what type of conduct?

Item 5. Additional Information

We encourage you to seek out additional information about our investment advisory services in our Form ADV Brochure on Investor.gov or adviserinfo.sec.gov. Alternatively, you can call Cosner toll-free at (970) 482-3922 to speak with us directly and request a copy of this relationship summary.

Conversation Starter: Ask your financial professional:

- Who is my primary contact person? Is he or she a representative of an investment adviser or a broker-dealer? Who can I talk to if I have concerns about how this person is treating me?

FORM CRS - CUSTOMER RELATIONSHIP SUMMARY

Triad Advisors, LLC | Triad Hybrid Solutions, LLC

Introduction

Triad Advisors, LLC (“Triad”) is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”) as both a securities broker-dealer and an investment adviser and is a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (“FINRA”). Triad Hybrid Solutions, LLC (“THS”) is registered with the SEC as investment adviser. (References below to we, us and our are a reference to Triad and/or THS as the context dictates.) Brokerage and investment advisory services and fees differ, and it is important for you to understand these differences. Free and simple tools are available to research firms and financial professionals at Investor.gov/CRS, which also provides educational materials about broker-dealers, investment advisers, and investing.

What investment services and advice can you provide me?

Triad offers both brokerage and investment advisory services to retail investors while THS offers only investment advisory services to retail investors.

Brokerage Services

Our brokerage services include, but are not limited to, buying and selling securities, including stocks and bonds, fixed and variable annuities, mutual funds, exchange traded funds, direct participation programs, alternative investment products, life insurance, unit investment trusts, 529 plans, and retirement plan consulting services and products.

Depending on the type of transaction, brokerage services can be transacted through a clearing firm custodial platform or directly with an investment sponsor. If brokerage services are transacted through a clearing firm custodial platform, transactions are executed through that platform and assets are custodied there as well. Brokerage services that are conducted directly with an investment sponsor involve transactions between Triad and the sponsor, with your financial account and the assets inside held directly with the investment sponsor or its designated custodian.

One of our obligations to you when providing brokerage services is that we must act in your best interest and not place our interests ahead of yours when we recommend an investment or an investment strategy involving securities. Additionally, when we provide any service to you, we must treat you fairly and comply with a number of specific obligations. However, our interests can conflict with your interests. When we provide recommendations, we must eliminate, mitigate or inform you of these conflicts, depending on the nature of the conflict.

When you use Triad for brokerage services, you will pay a transaction-based fee, generally referred to as a commission, every time you buy or sell an investment. You may select investments, or we may recommend investments for your account, but the ultimate investment decisions are yours.

We are not required to monitor your portfolio or investments on an ongoing basis. We may voluntarily, and without any agreement with you, review the holdings in your account for the purposes of determining whether to provide you with a recommendation. This voluntary review is not considered to be “account monitoring,” and does not create an implied agreement with you to monitor the account.

Depending on your preference, you will receive account statements in electronic or paper form. The frequency in which you receive statements and the party responsible for delivering statements depends on the investments selected.

Our brokerage services may have account/investment minimums, which are further detailed in the Triad Broker-Dealer Firm Brochure (“BD Firm Brochure”) at advisorgroup.com/tri-firm-brochure.

Our brokerage services cover a specific selection of investments, and other firms could provide a different range of investment choices, some of which might have different costs.

Advisory Services

Advisory services are available through either Triad or THS. Our advisory services include, but are not limited to, discretionary and non-discretionary investment advisory services (including investment portfolio monitoring, financial counseling, review of accounts, and securities research), “wrap fee” programs (an account where no separate transaction charges apply and a single fee is paid for advisory services and trading costs), third-party advisory services, retirement plan consulting services and products, consulting services, and financial planning.

In addition, advisory services include an investment management program that provides you with access to multiple investment managers who provide investment advice to your portfolios consisting of individual stocks, bonds, exchange traded and mutual funds. One of those investment managers is our advisory affiliate, Ladenburg Thalmann Asset Management Inc.

When providing advisory services, we are held to a fiduciary standard that covers our investment advisory relationship with you. As fiduciaries, investment advisers are required to act in the best interest of their clients and not place their own interests ahead of their clients. However, at times our interests can conflict with your interests. When we provide recommendations, we must eliminate, mitigate or inform you of these conflicts, depending on the nature of the conflict.

When you use Triad or THS for advisory services, you will pay an ongoing asset-based fee for our services. As part of these services, we will offer you advice on a regular basis, discuss your investment and overall financial goals, design a strategy to help achieve those goals, and regularly monitor your account, meeting with you at least annually. When you use us for financial planning, the fees will be agreed upon between you and your financial professional.

There are different types of advisory accounts you can choose. You can select an advisory account that allows us to buy and sell investments in your account without asking you in advance (a “discretionary account”), or we may give you advice and you decide what investments to buy and sell (a “non-discretionary account”).

For our discretionary services, you give your financial professional or an investment manager the authority to buy and sell securities, either absolutely or subject to certain restrictions. This authority varies according to the advisory program, and there is a prohibition against exercising discretion in client accounts unless granted written authority to enter orders on your behalf. For these discretionary services, investment monitoring is offered as part of our standard services and is provided at least annually.

For our non-discretionary services, you make the ultimate decision regarding the purchase and/or sale of investments. For these non-discretionary services, investment monitoring is offered as part of our standard services and is provided at least annually. Investment advice may be provided regarding asset allocation, investment portfolio construction, investment selection, or other services as agreed upon by both parties, and there may be limitations on investment offerings.

The advisory services may also have account/investment minimums, which are further detailed in the applicable Form ADV Brochure.

Our investment advice only covers investments that are allowed according to the terms of each advisory program, and other firms could provide advice on a wider range of choices, some of which might have lower costs.

Conversation Starters

Ask your financial professional:

- Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service? Should I choose a brokerage service? Should I choose both types of services? Why or why not?
- How will you choose investments to recommend to me?
- What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education and other qualifications? What do these qualifications mean?

What fees will I pay?

Fees and costs affect the value of your account over time. Please ask your financial professional to give you personalized information on the fees and costs that you will pay.

Brokerage Services Fees

For brokerage services, you are charged fees and costs on your transactions through Triad in the form of:

- Commissions: a service charge assessed by us for handling purchases and sales of securities, a portion of which is paid to your financial professional
- Transaction fees: a fee we charge per transaction which varies based on the type of transaction, among other factors
- Ticket charges: a fee we charge for buying, selling or exchanging a security which varies based on the type of product, size of purchase/sale, among other factors

Because you are charged for each trade in your account, we have an incentive to encourage you to trade often. In addition, you will be assessed fees and costs on your account and investments for a variety of other services we provide, depending on the type of accounts and products you have and where your accounts and investments are held. These include, but are not limited to: custodian fees, account maintenance fees, fees related to mutual funds and variable annuities, and other transactional and product-level fees.

Our fees vary. The amount you pay will depend, for example, on how much you buy or sell, what type of investment you buy or sell, and what kind of account you have with us.

Advisory Services Fees

For most advisory services, you will pay an ongoing recurring fee based on the value of cash and investments in your advisory account. The more assets there are in your advisory account, the more you will pay in fees, and Triad and/or THS may therefore have an incentive to encourage you to increase the assets in your account.

The amount paid to Triad or THS and your financial professional does not vary based on the type of investments we select on your behalf or recommend to you. The asset-based fee reduces the value of your account and will be deducted from your account.

For wrap fee programs, the asset-based fee will include most transaction costs and custody services, and as a result wrap fees are typically higher than non-wrap advisory fees. For non-wrap fee programs, there are asset-based fees for investment advice, but separate transaction fees. Some investments (such as mutual funds and variable annuities) impose additional fees that will reduce the value of your investment over time. For financial planning and consulting services, the fees will be agreed upon between you and your financial professional.

Some fees vary and are negotiable. The amount you pay will depend, for example, on the services you receive and the amount of assets in your account.

For additional details on how fees are calculated, refer to your investment advisory agreement and the applicable disclosures specific to your advisory account.

You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying.

Conversation Starters

Ask your financial professional:

- Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me?

What are your legal obligations to me when providing recommendations as my broker-dealer or when acting as my investment adviser? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

When we provide you with a recommendation as your broker-dealer or act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interests ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can effect the recommendations and investment advice we provide you. Here are some examples to help you understand what this means.

As you work with your financial professional to determine the right investments and services to achieve your investment goals, you should understand how we are compensated. This is because various forms of compensation may create potential conflicts of interest, and it is important for you to evaluate potential conflicts of interest in making investment decisions.

Certain sources of compensation may be familiar to you because they are directly associated with your account type or investments. Other forms of compensation, however, may not be as familiar, because they do not directly affect the amount you pay. Below are several examples of ways we make money and the associated conflicts of interest.

- Revenue sharing occurs for certain investments where a manager or sponsor of those investments shares with us revenue it earns on those investments. By participating in Triad's bank deposit sweep program ("Sweep Program"), your free credit balances will be transferred into an account at a bank whose deposits are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation ("FDIC"), or, for certain accounts, in a money market mutual fund. Each bank or fund will pay Triad a fee equal to a percentage of the average daily deposit balance or a flat fee, and the fee Triad receives may differ among banks depending on the interest rate environment and/or any fee reductions made by Triad. Please see triad-advisors.com/customer-information for additional detail on these sources of compensation and the associated conflicts of interest.
- Products or services which provide revenue to Triad and the Sweep Program could indirectly provide incentives to financial professionals to recommend such products over similar products or services which do not provide revenue to Triad.

Additionally, commissions or other compensation related to one financial service provider, product, investment, or service may be higher than commissions or other compensation related to a comparable provider, product, or service. Those higher rates of compensation could provide us (and our financial professionals) incentives to recommend certain providers, products, or services over those with lower rates of compensation.

It is important to note that while we will take reasonable care in developing and making recommendations to you, securities involve risk, and you may lose money. There is no guarantee that you will meet your investment goals, or that our recommended investment strategy will perform as anticipated. Please consult any available offering documents for any security we recommend for a discussion of risks associated with the product. We can provide those documents to you or help you to find them.

How do your financial professionals make money?

Our financial professionals can offer various types of advisory and brokerage programs, platforms and services, and can earn more or less if a certain type of service, program or platform is recommended. They are also compensated in a variety of ways, and the compensation can be based on factors such as: the amount of client assets they service; the time and complexity required to meet a client's needs; the product sold (i.e., differential compensation); product sales commissions; or revenue we earn from the financial professional's advisory services or recommendations.

In their day-to-day businesses, it is not uncommon for our financial professionals to face decisions about whether a particular action or circumstance constitutes a conflict of interest. While many conflicts can be avoided, there are some conflicts that are unavoidable. Since our financial professionals are compensated for the services they provide, this presents an inherent conflict of interest.

Commission-based financial professionals are compensated solely through commissions. In contrast, fee-based financial professionals charge an asset based or flat fee directly to their clients for their services. This fee can be structured in multiple ways, such as an hourly rate, a flat monthly or annual fee, or a percentage of assets under management. Financial professionals that offer both brokerage and advisory services can be compensated as commission-based or fee-based depending on the type of product or service offered.

Our financial professionals may have conflicts of interest beyond those disclosed by us, including the potential to receive loans, expense reimbursement, and incentives for adding assets to our platform, and those financial professionals will disclose, when appropriate, any additional material conflicts of interest no later than the time of a recommendation.

Do you or your financial professionals have legal or disciplinary history?

We have disciplinary events. Visit Investor.gov/CRS for a free and simple search tool to research us and our financial professionals.
